Estrella Morente possesses in-depth knowledge of her art, and an innate refinement. She is a benchmark for fans of flamenco, and for music lovers in general, as she blends with great taste and skill the traditional influences of her home city Granada with the genre's most recent trends in the new millennium. Her approach to flamenco singing also includes Christmas carols adapted to tangos, tanguillos, bulerías, etc., which are a tradition in Andalusian cities like Jerez de la Frontera, Cadiz and Granada. The zambomba is a party at which enchantment and joy go hand in hand. Estrella Morente, oldest daughter of the maestro Enrique Morente, has an extensive and consolidated career as a flamenco singer, and has taken her art and musical inventiveness around the world. Endowed with a crystalline voice, she moves easily from warm suggestive tones to heart-breaking phrases. Her singing, which is pure and orthodox, contains unique, personal elements that constitute a real revolution in the panorama of flamenco tradition.
