Following their huge success in all their television appearances, Los Crackids and Dits are coming to present their show live. Rock, ska, punk and young people mix to form an explosive cocktail.
The Crackids reunited in 2021 to perform in the program Tierra de talento, where they reached the semifinals. The most important rock magazines in the country and Latin America echoed their performance, getting their video performing a song by Los Ramones to go viral.
DITS emerged in 2017. In 2019 they win a band contest and go no more and no less than to the most famous studios in the world, Abbey Road (London), where they record the song 'Respect', in which they make visible the problem of racism in their lives. From this moment on, TV stations and magazines became interested in them and they were invited to participate in festivals such as Kalikenyo Rock, Ojeando or Woodstock.
The drummers of both groups, Sergio García (DITS) and David García (Los Crackids), are the representatives of Spain in the most important drummers contest in the world (Drum off Global).
