"To acknowledge that you are old, responding positively to the internal and external changes that occur at this vital stage of life is a challenge. At times such as the present, when the focus is on productivity, only acceptance, understanding and social conscience can humanise and unveil the wealth that is amassed by this shared experience. Old age arrives with its coarseness and sweetness; finiteness is a fact. To accept it and to make a virtue of necessity is a common responsibility and a sublime art of powerful beauty." Ana Rando

The company, founded in 2014 in Malaga with Ana Rando as Artistic Director, presents versatile productions that highlight the value of dance as subject matter. A language in which choreography and the discourse of movement predominate and fill the whole stage.
