Paloma San Basilio, one of the most iconic voices and outstanding personalities in the world of music, is getting ready to say goodbye to the stage with one last monumental concert tour entitled Gracias, which marks the end of an era in Latin music and will take her all over the world. Accompanied by her fabulous band, including her own daughter as a backup singer, San Basilio will go over the hits that have marked her career –‘No llores por mí, Argentina’, ‘Luna de miel’, ‘Por qué me abandonaste’,

TEATRO CERVANTES | ECHEGARAY DE MÁLAGA

'Juntos' and 'Cariño mío' in what promises to be an unforgettable experience full of music, emotion and reminiscences that will live on in the audience's memory. With unequalled elegance and undeniable talent, San Basilio is one of the most loved and respected artists of Latin music and a model for several generations of fans.

With this tour, the artist wants to express her profound gratitude to all those who have been part of her incredible journey to success.

"My dear people, this year I celebrate 50 years in the world of music and on stage. It has been a wonderful journey and when I started my career, I never thought that I would find such a rich, surprising and generous path. It has happened to a large extent thanks to all of you who were there accompanying me. That is the reason why the tour is simply entitled 'Gracias'. You will always be in my heart".

Paloma San Basilio's career is marked by countless awards and acknowledgements, such as the Latin Grammy Lifetime Achievement Award (2006) and the Gold Medal of Merit in the Fine Arts awarded by the Ministry of Culture and Sport of Spain (2022), in addition to numerous gold and platinum records.

Gracias is a unique opportunity to celebrate together the legacy of a true legend.
