Zambomba flamenca at Christmas time is the common expression of traditional Andalusian emotions through flamenco dancing. The zambomba originated in family gatherings and in the common courtyards where they shared, in a very spontaneous manner, food, songs with popular lyrics, dancing and hand clapping. This way Andalusian Christmas carols come to life adapted to the different styles of flamenco, such as bulerías, tangos, rumbas, etc.

The staging, the art and passion of the gypsy families who share their common feelings about the Christmas festivities are the true reflection of an ancestral tradition transformed into joy to celebrate their love for the new born baby Jesus.

The Company of Antonio de Verónica and Saray Cortés finds its roots in the tradition of flamenco art and in an absolute command of its purest techniques.
