Nana is pregnant and little by little discovers how her body begins to change to never be one again, but two. Nana has the sensation of having gone up in a hot-air-balloon and having walked over the air for nine months. And more. Her baby is born, and grows up to be a boy, a young adult and a father. El inolvidable viaje de Nana is a trip in a balloon that flies over the incomprehensible cycle of life. A collection of memories in three dimensions based on the experience of motherhood.
