Mr. Pino and Tina Madrina are organising the Teatro Cervantes' 150th anniversary party. They put up coloured flag decorations, prepare a table with a cake...but a little mysterious phantom is constantly undoing their work. In the middle of the preparations they receive the visit of Miguel de Cervantes, and a few wicked characters want to spoil it all. With the help of all the children present shouting the mythical phrase "Peneque, Peneque where are you?", Peneque will prevent them from carrying out their plans, will save the writer after whom the theatre is named and will make it possible for the party to take place.
