To deny old age is to deny the future.
It all begins when José runs away from the nursing home to jump with a parachute. He wants to show everyone that he is still capable of doing different things. Vicenta, on the other hand, takes a train to…wherever it takes her. Two touching characters who reflect the universal world of old persons. If any of them decide to fall in love like an adolescent or dream like a child, does that make them younger?
Tiempos viejos is a story in which our grandparents relive their past, live their own reality and dream of a new future; and is a special tribute to all their caretakers.
